Registration No:	Photograph	Education Details	Technical Skills	Project Details	General Comments
2012/CS/041		Mention your current GPA.			Customise your LinkedIn URL into more convenient one.

Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes. Make sure you are using correct abbreviations (e.g. PHP?)

You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV. |
| 2012/CS/070 | Include a quality photo of yourself. | Mention your current GPA. | | Try to elaborate your projects more. | You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV.

Your CV is the reflection of your enthusiasm and your attitude towards this internship. So use it wisely. This version of your CV is bad. Please revise it. |
| 2012/CS/086 | Don't put selfies in a CV. | Mention your current GPA.

Mention your stream at the AL. | | | You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV.

Save line spaces and font sizes. You can reduce your CV into 2,3 pages.

Reduce your objective into 2,3 lines. |
| 2012/CS/103 | Include a more quality photo of yourself. | | | | Customise your LinkedIn URL into more convenient one.

Reduce your objective into 2,3 lines.

You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV.

No need of having two different sections (Objective and Personal Profile).

Mention contact numbers of your referees. |

2012/CS/120	Include a more quality photo of yourself	Mention your current GPA.			You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV.
2012/CS/140		Mention your current GPA with two decimal places.			Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes. Make sure you are using correct abbreviations (e.g. Treasure? Wise President?) You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV. Actually, "Key Competencies" part is not necessary at all. You will be automatically evaluated for those in real interviews.
2012/CS/146	Include a more quality photo of yourself	Mention your degree name correctly and current GPA.		Don't use Project 1,2 and etc. Just use Project title for that.	Don't mention your name twice in a CV. You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV. Your CV font and design is not good. Please revise this and try to find a more attractive template Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes.
2012/CS/153	Not good	Mention your current GPA with two decimal places.		Try to describe more details about your projects.	Save line spaces and font sizes. You can reduce your CV into 2,3 pages. Actually, "Key Skills" part is not necessary at all. You will be automatically evaluated for those in real interviews. Your CV font and design is not good. Please revise this and try to find a more attractive template Just use your preferred name for the CV, no need of using your full name.
2012/IS/011	Include a more quality photo of yourself	Round up your CGPA into two decimal places. Remove "Key Course			Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes. Make sure you are using correct abbreviations (e.g.sensor?) Actually, "Key Skills and Strengths" part is not

		Modules" part.			necessary at all. You will be automatically evaluated for those in real interviews.
2012/IS/029	Include a more quality photo of yourself	Mention your current GPA. Include your AL and OL details under your degree.			Your CV font and design is not good. Please revise this and try to find a more attractive template You can remove the declaration part. It is not necessary for a CV. Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes. Actually, "Skills and Competencies" part is not necessary at all. You will be automatically evaluated for those in real interviews. Include your IHRA and Trinity Qualifications under a new section called "Professional Qualifications"
2012/IS/053	Include a quality photo of yourself	Mention your current GPA with two decimal places. Use the correct degree name (Information System??) From where did you obtain these Certifications?			Reduce your summary into 3, 4 lines. Why do you continue your columns into next page? This is not good. Readers will be confused. Please revise this and try to find a more attractive template. Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes. Customise your LinkedIn URL into more convenient one.
2012/IS/085	Include a quality photo of yourself	Remove "Key Course Modules" part. Don't mention your degree as a "Course". Try to emphasize it as the key qualification you have. Include CCNA under a new section called			Actually, "Key Skills and Strengths" part is not necessary at all. You will be automatically evaluated for those in real interviews. Focus more on page formatting, line spaces and font sizes. Remember the CV is a reflection of your attitude.

		"Professional Qualifications".
2012/IS/095	Good	Remove "Key Course Modules" part. Mention your current GPA. Don't mention your Z-Score. Mention your ICASL – CAB I qualification under a new section named, "Professional Qualifications"	Where is your Technical Skills?		Actually, "Key Skills and Strengths" part is not necessary at all. You will be automatically evaluated for those in real interviews. Double check for spelling and grammatical mistakes.