Registration No:	Photograph	Education Details	Technical Skills	Project Details	General Comments
2012IS009	Photo is not clear enough	1. No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's. 2. Put the topic as Educational Qualifications and try to put the details you put under Qualifications under this topic too. 3. No need of a table for A/L results. Waste of space. Put the subjects in one or 2 lines.	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job.	1. Mention the technologies used for the project and the role play if it is a group project.	1. 3 pages for CV is too much. You can easily minimize the CV for 2 pages by using a proper template. 2. Add project experiences and technical skills before Extra-curricular activities. 3. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 4. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date.
2012IS012	Make the photo bit larger	1. You haven't mention the A/L results. Proof read the CV before you send it to another. 2. No need of a separate topic named school and universities attended. Mention it here or university in the CV header.	Looks OK	Looks OK	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces. 2. Remove some stuff from the Personal Profile section and include them in the Header section. Make the header more interesting and mention UCSC also in the header. 3. Don't repeat details in the header section again in the Personal Profile section. 4. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 5. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date. 6. Try to add a referee from UCSC lecturer rather putting 2 from outside. 7. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it.
2012IS013	Looks OK	Looks OK	Looks OK	Looks OK	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces

					2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it.
					3. Reconsider whether what you have put under Working experience are actually applicable to that. Better if you put some of the stuff included there under Extra-curricular activities.
					4. No need to mention your name again in the Objective section. Email word is also not properly typed.
2012IS015	Looks OK	Add the current GPA if you can.	Looks OK	Make the project description little bit shorter. Looks OK	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it.
2012IS019	Looks OK	Add the schools you attended to the A/L and O/L results.			1. Make the header shorter. Don't put DOB and NIC number in the header. 2. No need of 2 separate sections called Carrier Objective and Personal Profile. Combine them in to a one topic. 3. Add EXTRA- CURRICLAR ACTIVITIES AND MEMBERSHIP before non-related referees. 4. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 5. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 6. Put the date and a space for your signature. No need to put undergraduate stuff again.
2012IS027	Add a photo without a background of people	1. Add the schools you attended to the A/L and O/L results. 2. Add the current GPA if you can. 3. No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's.	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job	Looks OK	1. Don't put the name with a Initials. Put the use name as Nuwan Harshana. 2. Start a sentence with a capital letter. (eg: Achievements section) 3. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 4. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it.

					5. Put the date and a space for your signature. No need to put undergraduate stuff again. 6. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 7. Mention you are an undergraduate of UCSC in the header.
2012IS028	Looks OK	Put your A/L results. If you like you can put the O/L results too.	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job	Looks OK	1. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it. 2. Try to bring the content of objective and profile section into a one section by summarizing them. 3. Rather than putting Curriculum Vitae , put 'Undergraduate of University of Colombo School of Computing' in the header. 4. Put non related referees at the end. 5. Put the date and a space for your signature.
2012IS031	Insert a photo. It brings a value to your cv	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's.	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job	You haven't mentioned any projects that you have done during the university life. This is ridiculous. Main thing software companies are looking is this. Please add project details.	1. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it. 2. Use a proper template and better if you can make this cv again. This cv is not up to the standard at all.
2012IS032	Looks OK.	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. Just mention how many A's and B's you got for O/L if you like.	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Start with your name in a larger font. 2. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 3. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 4. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 5. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date.

2012IS033	Photo is not clear enough.				1. Start with your name in a larger font. 2. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 3. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it. 4. No need of 2 separate sections called Objective and Personal Profile. Combine them in to a one topic. 5. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date. 6. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 7. Add two referees to the CV. 8. Use a proper template rather making the cv as a report.
2012IS034	Put a smiling photo if you can. No offence. But it is an advantage.	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. Put your A/L results. If you like you can put the O/L results too.	Looks OK	Looks OK	1. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 2. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date. 3. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 4. Overall CV is OK if you can do those minor changes.
2012IS035	Looks OK	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job	You haven't mentioned any projects that you have done during the university life. This is ridiculous. Main thing software companies are looking is this. Please add project details.	1. No need of 2 separate sections called Objective and Personal Profile. Combine them in to a one topic. 2. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 3. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date. 4. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 5. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 6.

2012IS036	Looks OK.	No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's	-	-	1. Is this a report or a cv? 6 pages for CV. First time I saw something like this…reduce the font sizes and make the CV to 2 pages. No one is ready to read this much of pages in a CV. 2. Don't address yourself as Mr. 3. Better if you use a proper template and make the cv again
2012IS038	Photo is not good for a CV. Replace it	Looks OK	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job.	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Put your most used names as the header. Not the name with initials. 2. Put the date and a space for your signature. Company can see when you have last updated the CV from the date. 3. Put 2 referees for the CV. No one ask for referees if you not provide. It's your duty to provide referrals. 4. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 5. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces.
2012IS040	Looks OK	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's	Add a separate topic as technical skills and add technical skills you have added as strengths.	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Just mention as objective rather than putting My objective 2. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 3. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces.
2012IS041	Make the photo little bit a larger.	Not GAP. It is GPA. Mention how much it is.	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job.	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Put your most used names as the header. Not the name with initials. 2. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 3. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 4. You have put the heading date and put the date too. No need of heading date at the end.

					5. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it.
2012IS042	Looks OK	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. Put your A/L results. If you like you can put the O/L results too.	What you have mentioned are not technical skills. Add technological skills.	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 3. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you.
2012IS045	Looks OK	Looks OK	Looks OK	Looks OK	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 3. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 3. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it.
2012IS046	Looks OK	Add the current GPA if you can.	Add a separate topic as technical skills and add technical skills	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 3. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 3. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it.
2012IS047	Add a photo.	Add the current GPA if you can. Put your A/L results. If you like you can put the O/L results too.	Add a separate topic as technical skills and add technical skills	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 3. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 4. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it.

					5. No need to put two similar things after the header like profile and objective. Combine them into one topic.
2012IS048	Looks OK	1. Add the current GPA if you can. 2. No need to mention about the subjects you have done for O/L's. Just mention how many A's and B's	You haven't mentioned any technical skills as you are applying for an IT related job	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 3. Just put the name in simplest form in the header as Dulanjalee Gamage or Dulanjalee Madhushani.
2012IS049	Add a photo	1. Add the current GPA if you can.	Add a separate topic as technical skills and add technical skills.	Elaborate more on projects. Add the technologies you have used and your role in the group. This is the main section companies are looking for.	1. Try to minimize your cv to 2 pages. You can easily do that by omitting the unwanted details and reducing the spaces 2. No need to put a declaration unless you provided false information. Omit it. 3. Create a LinkedIn profile and add the URL of it to the header. It brings a value to you. 4. Submit a pdf version of your cv whenever someone request it.